

STUDIO INFORMATION LEAFLET

STUDIO WAITING LIST

Acme Studios provides affordable non-residential studio space for fine artists who are unable to afford to rent workspace on the open market. The rent for an Acme studio is on average one third of that charged for physically comparable workspace available commercially.

How to register

Acme operates a waiting list for artists in need of affordable studio space. Any practising fine artist (e.g. painter, sculptor, print-maker or artist working in installation, photography, film, video, live art, time-based, digital or multi-media work) may apply to register on the list. There is a simple application procedure which involves completing an application form and providing an up to date curriculum vitae detailing professional qualifications, exhibition/commissions history and any other relevant experience. There is an initial £10 registration fee.

The application form contains questions which help us understand your needs e.g. what size of space you are seeking, which locations you prefer or whether you have any special access needs. We can then 'match' this information against studio spaces as they become available.

We also ask you to complete a separate monitoring form. This helps us to be inclusive in drawing our services to the attention of artists and to understand more about the needs of artists applying to us. The form is detached and filed separately from the registration form so any information you provide is not linked to you and thus remains anonymous. We also ask details of your income. This information is important to us as it helps us to monitor changes in artists' incomes to ensure that what we provide continues to be affordable, and to help make the case for more affordable studio space.

Please contact us on 020 8981 6811 if you require this information in an alternative format

To ensure that our waiting list consists of artists who are actively in need of space all artists who register must update their information each year and we charge an annual fee of £5 if artists wish to remain on the list. You will automatically receive a request to update on the anniversary of your registration.

If you are removed from the list for non-payment and wish to re-join then the date Acme receives the £5 fee will be your new registration date. This is to encourage artists to remain active on the list.

Application form

Your application form must be completed and sent to us by post together with the registration fee of £10 (please make cheques payable to 'Acme'), your C.V. and monitoring form.

Allocation policy

Studios are offered to artists as they become available either through 'turnover' (when an artist leaves a space) in our existing buildings or through the development of new studio buildings.

There are over 600 artists already registered with us and it is difficult to predict with any accuracy the rate of turnover or exactly when new buildings will come on stream. We cannot therefore give you a clear indication of how long it might take before a studio is available or guarantee that we will be able to offer you a studio that meets your needs.

Allocation of studio space is made strictly on the basis of registration date. We first match artists' needs (as provided to us through the initial application form and subsequent updating) against a studio space which becomes available to let. We then offer the space to the artist who has been registered with us for the longest time. If they do not accept we then offer it to the next artist in terms of registration date, and so on. When an artist takes up a space which meets their requirements they no longer remain registered on the list.

Artists who take up a temporary studio option (a sub-let for 6 months or a shared or partitioned studio) remain on the waiting list until a studio which meets their requirements becomes available.

If you do not respond to letters informing you of possible spaces or do not take up spaces which match your requirements we reserve the right to remove your name from the waiting list.

Studio turnover

As a guide, our most popular buildings are Copperfield Road, Orsman Road and Robinson Road. The turnover of studio space in these buildings is low. In general, when self-contained permanent studios become available they tend to go to artists who have been registered for several years. The main turnover within existing buildings tends to be of temporary space (for periods of six months or a year), shared space and partitioned studio space (i.e. not self-contained). At Childers Street and Rowse Close, for example, there are a number of partitioned studios where there is a regular turnover. This type of space usually becomes available to artists who have registered with us more recently.

New building developments

We are committed to expanding the number of secure, accessible, high-quality and low-cost studios in our management and new projects are always being investigated and developed. When a new building comes on stream this will have the effect of helping a large number of artists on our waiting list in one go. When we know with certainty when a new studio building will be available we will consult with artists on our waiting list to help gauge interest and to ensure that particular requirements and needs are accommodated within the overall design wherever possible.

Disabled artists

Acme is committed to ensuring that as many of our studio buildings as possible are physically accessible to users and the public. We are also committed to making adaptations to studios, wherever practicable, to meet the needs of artists with particular disabilities.

Several of our buildings are physically accessible. In a number of buildings only ground floor studios are accessible to wheelchair users. When allocating studio space we reserve the right to give priority to artists with disabilities.

□ RENTING A STUDIO

Terms and conditions

Agreement

If you take up the offer of a studio you will be occupying the space on a tenancy which is controlled by Landlord and Tenant legislation. Your tenancy agreement will indicate how long the studio will be available to you – normally until the end of our lease on a building or, if we own the building, not usually for less than five years. The tenancy will be excluded (by a Court Order) from the security of tenure provisions contained in Part II of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1954 and so you will not have any right to a new tenancy or to compensation at the end of the term.

Notice

We want to be as flexible as possible in responding to artists' needs and changing circumstances. If you wanted to leave the studio you would only need to give us two months' notice, at any time after the first three months.

Rent and charges

The tenancy agreement will indicate the rent and electricity you will pay and when the rent will be reviewed. Rents are reviewed on 1st April in every other year. Payment of rent is on the first of each month in advance and you will be asked to pay a deposit equal to a month's rent which will be returned to you when you leave. There is an initial administration charge of £100.

The administration charge is £50 if you are taking a sub-let, or sharing or taking a short-term space.

Use

You will only be able to use the studio as a non-commercial fine artists' studio and not for storage or other purposes. We have a responsibility to ensure that maximum use is made of low-cost studio space by bona fide artists who are in genuine need. Notice will be given to any artist who is in breach of this condition. All our studios permit 24 hour access.

Sub-letting

Your tenancy will not allow you to sub-let your studio – it is for your personal use only. However we recognise that artists may be offered opportunities, such as scholarships or commissions abroad, but do not want give up their spaces. Under such exceptional circumstances we will consider requests from artists to under-let their studios for periods of 6 to 12 months to artists who are registered on our waiting list.

Sharing

Your tenancy will not allow you to share your studio. If, when you register with Acme, you wish to share with a particular artist, you will both need to register and when you occupy it will be on a 'joint tenancy'. If you wish to share subsequently your tenancy will be brought to an end and a joint tenancy will be issued. The artist with whom you intend to share must be registered on our waiting list.
